November 18, 19, and 20 are the new dates.
Armistice day brought pleasant memories—war was over.
When will there be a new armistice day?
Many counties gave Kelly and Ferguson double and treble majorities. Wayne went Democratic, and so did Alger in the Upper Peninsula.
We hope Kelly doesn't start parading his family before the public.
They are fine youngsters but—
There are fine boys and girls in other Michigan families, too, who won't have a chance to parade.
There was no special public celebration of Armistice day Wednesday. However, streets were well decorated with flags.

And now come the hunters!

Gasoline Rationing Postponed to Nov. 18, 19, 20

Just as everyone was getting ready to go out and get their gasoline rationing card Nov. 10th, 11th and 12th, a telegram was received by the local board announcing postponement to Nov. 18th, 19th and 20th. The reason for the postponement was given as due to lack of books, and excuse tire pickup.

Scrap Drive Brings 262 Tons

Chairman MacNeven Reports 219 Pounds Per Capita.

Crawford county goes over the top again in the scrap drive closed last week. Harold MacNeven, chairman of the scrap committee and his assistant Charles Mieser report an accumulation of 262 tons gathered in two days. This makes an average in the county of 219 pounds per person for our population of 3,300.
It was a great feat in which the schools played a large part. Immediately after school on Friday, scores of youngsters started out and they didn't miss a home or business place where they asked "have you any scrap for defense?" Nearly every home had already been ransacked and when the youngsters arrived large heaps of metals and other valuable scrap was there awaiting them.
What couldn't be carried away was left in piles to be called for by trucks later. City-owned trucks and those of the Grayling Lumber Co. were donated for this purpose and, starting from small beginnings, the piles grew until they were small mountains. The school boys and girls worked like beavers and the success of the drive is due in no small part to them.

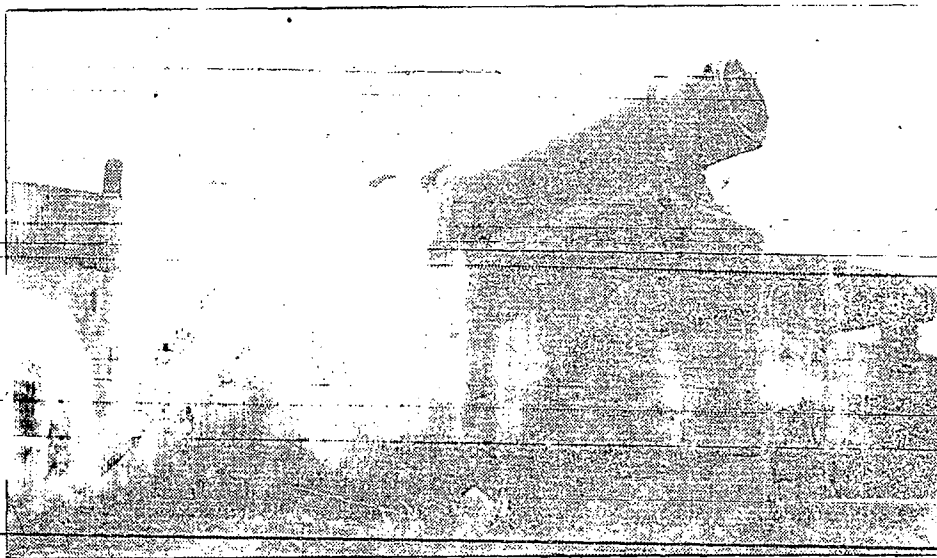

Womans Club

There was a large attendance at the social meeting given as a get acquainted party for the new members Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Esberr Olson.

John B. Redhead Dies in California

WAS ONE OF CRAWFORD COUNTY'S MOST ESTEEMED CITIZENS.

Of interest to many of our readers in this part of the state will be the news of the passing of John B. Redhead on October 28th at the home of a daughter in California.

John B. Redhead was born in Ashtabula, Ohio, on January 18, 1853, not long after his parents settled near that small Ohio town on their arrival from England. During his very early boyhood the family moved to Lapeer County in Michigan, where his father hewed a farm from what was then a wilderness about three miles from the city of Lapeer. Not long after their arrival there his father volunteered for service in the Union Army, and was one of those who never returned. The family stayed on under the adverse conditions of the Reconstruction period following the Civil War; developed the farm which was their sole heritage. During his early boyhood, which John always remembered with remarkable clarity, he saw the start of Michigan's great lumbering operations, and as he grew old enough spent the winters in hauling the priceless cork pine which stretched for miles around their farm, to market. He remembered clearly when the great passenger pigeon flights were so vast that they extended from one horizon to the other, and clouded the sun. He also remembered the assassination of President Lincoln, the introduction of kerosene lamps, and subsequently the invention of the electric light.

In 1883 he was married to Ada M. Bommer of Flint, and shortly after started in the shingle business which was to take him into many locations throughout the northern part of the state. About the turn of the century he purchased timber lands at the junction of the North Branch and main stream of the AuSable, and moved his shingle mill from the last stand in Roscommon to the new site. This was accomplished by shipping the heavy machinery to Grayling by rail, then loading it on small barges and floating it down the river. In this he was assisted ably by Charlie Amison. When he had completed the run of available timber he stayed on and cleared some of his timber lands into a small farm where the family lived for nearly forty years.

About a year ago he went to California to stay with a daughter hoping that the change of climate might bolster his failing health but to no avail.
He died in his eighty-ninth year on October 28th. He is survived by five children, Mrs. H. Clyde Car of Del Norte, Colorado, Mrs. B. J. Davidson of Vallejo, California, Mrs. F. G. Healy of Berkeley, California and two sons, Kenneth and Jack of Detroit. Mrs. Redhead died in 1923, and a third son Dean, was killed in an automobile wreck in Colorado in 1936. He is survived by 13 grandchildren.

How well we remember this fine old gentleman. He was always interesting and friendly. His was one of the favorite and popular resorts on the AuSable where he met and learned to know intimately many of the nation's well known men. He was the father of a splendid family, by whom he was held in deep affection.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the voters of Crawford County for the support I received in the Primary and General elections.

Sale of Christmas Seals Aids in T. B. Fight

A report to Crawford county residents on the work accomplished by their last year's Christmas seals is submitted by Theo J. Werle, Lansing, executive secretary of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

To wipe out tuberculosis Christmas seals work in two distinct fields. Mr. Werle explains (1) To find the unknown cases of tuberculosis, protecting the community from the spread of their germs and giving the sick a chance to become well. (2) To educate people to prevent tuberculosis.

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association X-rayed 19 persons in Crawford county this year. Since 1931 when Christmas sales began the X-ray service, 285 persons have been X-rayed in this county. Mr. Werle reports.

Another X-ray clinic for Crawford and Roscommon counties, is scheduled for the Court House in Roscommon on November 16.

Because early tuberculosis shows no symptoms, the X-ray, which makes a shadow picture of the chest is a great help in diagnosis. A trained tuberculosis specialist studies each film and determines whether or not disease is present.

The MTA offers its educational services, including literature, posters, and a film loan library to all civic groups, churches, schools, health directors, Board of Supervisors, libraries, and industries make use of this material.

The MTA movie unit visited the Frederic high school last March to show the new color movie "The Case History of Lucy X," which was filmed in a Michigan sanatorium.

To interest students in building good health, six issues of the Wolverine Health Bulletin were mailed to all schools in the county. Health teaching aids, posters, pamphlets and booklets, were supplied to rural schools through the school commissioner.

The steady work of Christmas seals over the state, forced Michigan's tuberculosis death rate to the lowest figure in history last year—32 per 100,000 population. To hold this record against the onslaught of war is the job of the 1942 Christmas seal. Mr. Werle stressed. Tuberculosis, which has always increased with war, has already made sharp rises in England, Canada and France, he said.

MISSIONARIES VISIT AU-SABLE VALLEY SUNDAY SCHOOL

Elder Paul Frisbie and Ernst Tedworth, missionaries of the re-organized church of Jesus Christ, made a return visit to the AuSable Valley Sunday School group, Nov. 1st, spending a few days to complete the baptism and confirmation of one adult and three children who wished to join Christ's Church in these latter days.

CARD OF THANKS

Rivers and Dams

When the first traders came into the AuSable and Manistee Valleys, they used these rivers as highways. With a short portage between the AuSable and Portage Lake, better known now as Lake Margrethe, they could cross Michigan with ease.

In these days it must have been a glorious trip, virgin timber filled these valleys. The forest teeming with wild game, the rivers and lakes full of fish, all of it traveled by man.

One of the greatest stands of pines in the world grew in the lower peninsula of Michigan. The lumber men thought it would last forever, but within forty years it was cut.

They also used these streams as highways, they moved supplies down them and drove their logs down them to the mill.

Mr. Potts, an old time lumberman, once moved all the equipment for logging railroad, including locomotives from Grayling to a location below the North Branch. This equipment was loaded on scows and floated to its destination, two men handled each scow. Mr. Arthur Wakeley, THE OLD MAN OF THE RIVER, was one of the hardy pioneers who helped run these unwieldy loads down the stream. In the same year Mr. Potts moved all of his supplies in this way.

I think the facts I have stated should prove that the AuSable is really a highway and should not be obstructed by dams unless the whole community benefits by it. No individual should be allowed to dam it up for private use.

In these days there were no trout in the AuSable river, Grayling being the game fish in all the streams in this district. The log-driving started them over the hill to extinction and brook trout which were introduced about that time finished the job.

After the last log drive had battered its way down stream came a period of depression for our streams. Their banks were scarred and battered from logs and floods, the slopes leading down to the waters edge were barren, forest fires ran uncontrolled, killing second growth of timber causing a quick run off of water in the spring and extremely low water in summer.

A few years later people began coming to the north country on their vacations. Fishermen, deer hunters, bird hunters and some who just wanted to float the almost endless miles of streams.

Back in those days there were no dams from Grayling to AuSable City. And I can remember a great many small scows and boats leaving Grayling for a through trip, some elaborate and some cheaply constructed, but the parties all having a good time.

The memories of the once great forests were still clinging to the people who lived here so they began thinking of conservation, reforestation and forest fire control.

With people who live out of doors to think is to act. Trees were planted by the millions every one began trying to control forest fires. Hatcheries began springing up here and there; in general conservation was born. Fishing was good on the Au-

Sable and the people who lived in its valleys began to cash in on what they had. The fame of the AuSable spread until it was the best known trout stream in the United States.

A vast cloak of second growth covered the once barren slopes making ideal game cover, and filling the valleys with timber.

The greatest assets Crawford county has today are the valleys, lakes and rivers. Not as old as we have and try to protect them. Remember, it took years to rebuild it.

In the past few years a lot of people have thought of building dams in our streams to generate electricity for their cabins, as Delcoes are rather a nuisance. One always has to put gas into them and do a lot of fussing around. I have heard this subject brought up a number of times only to be given up when the people realized what it would do to our streams.

When you stop the free flow of water in a stream by a dam you create a sand trap as far up stream as the quiet water reaches. This immediately begins to collect sand and muck, shallowing the water and giving the sun a chance to warm it up. I have seen beaver spoil a stream with three or four dams, the East Branch of Big Creek is one of these.

The water below the third dam being unfit for trout being of very bad odor and with a temperature so high trout could not live in it.

It would not take very many dams to ruin the AuSable as a trout stream because only a few degrees above 70 are fatal to trout. We have during the times the banks of our streams were barren seen hundreds of trout gathered around springs refusing to be driven more than a few feet from its cold flow and returning immediately if left to their own devices. These fish would not feed, refusing everything offered, apparently trying to keep alive by sucking in the precious cold water.

Let us not forget about the hundreds of people, both young and old who float down our streams every year just for the pleasure they get from miles and miles of free flowing river, just watching the banks slide by, seeing fish or a muskrat pushing a weed of grass across the stream to feed her babies. These folk are young and old get as much pleasure from our stream as a fisherman does. Do you think they would come if we had our streams plugged every mile or so by an unsightly dam with a flapping water wheel at one end and a portage at the other.

Folks, I've seen a good many people come here tired out and disgusted from the drudgery of city life stay a week or ten days and leave with a new slant on life and feeling ten years younger.

Let us keep what we have for these people, and they will thank us for it. Do not forget that many of us enjoy it as much as they do.

Your neighbor,
Earl Madsen.

Scarcity of Labor Slows Work at Airport

PROPOSAL TO TAKE IT OVER REJECTED.

Scarcity of labor slows up progress at the airport. Attractive overtime rates fail to stimulate workers. However the construction work is going at a fairly good pace.

Consideration of making a change in the runways ended in deciding that no change is necessary and the locations will stand as they are at present.

James Ward and M. H. Howell of the Civil Aeronautics Administration recently appeared before the city council with a proposal to the City that would have turned the airport over to the city for maintenance after the war. First the City would have to reimburse the war department for the extra land purchased to enlarge the airport, with the understanding that the City would allow the army to use the airport for the duration and six months afterward.

The city in turn would have to maintain the airport. This proposal was rejected by the Council because of the high cost of maintenance of over 1000 acres of land the buildings and approximately 25 miles of runways.

Also at the same meeting of the council a representative from the war department office at Chicago was present to make arrangements with the council to purchase the 400 acres of land owned by the city that are a part of the original airport that are needed for the expansion program. The City accepted the war department's offer for the land and gave the department a six-month option on the area.

To Editor of Grayling Avalanche:
 Hello all folks at home:

Bob, Kenneth and I are all still out here in Pacific North West. Kenneth is still on same farm he went onto when he came out here last April, but is due for army in a few days now. He is fine and so are we, Bob and I. Have done a little wandering in the state (Washington) seen different parts of Washington. We worked at Silverdale, Wash. for a while, then we came back to Seattle. Then went from there to Elma, Wash., and then to Paulsbo, Wash. but now we are back in Sand Point naval air station. There are lots of beautiful sights out here. We are living on banks of Lake Washington. We have bought a house trailer and are living in a trailer park. We have started to have our rainy season out here, and I guess we have rain most all winter, especially in February.

Hope everyone is well at home and that all our friends will write us some time so we can know how things are at home.

As ever,
 Mrs. Robert L. Jackson,

The Weather
 With nearly three inches of snow we must admit that winter is really on its way in earnest. The high and low temperatures of the week were 53 on Tuesday and 19 on Wednesday. So get your snowsuits and sleds out, kiddies, and start saving your ashes for slippery walks, folks. "Old Man Winter" seems to have arrived for his yearly visit.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Nov. 13, 1919.

The big circus given by the seniors and juniors at the school Friday evening drew the biggest crowd that ever attended a school entertainment. There were animals, acrobats, clowns, singers, etc. They took in some money too. The cash register recorded $200 to their credit.

Harry Fredman of Milwaukee was a guest of his brother-in-law, A. J. Joseph and family the latter part of the week.

Attorney and Mrs. Homer Fitch are receiving congratulations on a daughter born Wednesday, Nov. 21.

Charles Amidon, who moved to Flint recently was in Grayling Saturday getting the remainder of his supplies.

Monday evening the members of the Good Fellowship club were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bauman at a dinner at Shoppington Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Michelson, who are leaving here to reside in Detroit, were the guests of honor.

Miss Maude Tetu of Bay City is spending a few days at home

F. H. Milks formerly of Grayling has opened a partnership meat market at Royal Oak.

On Saturday a number of ladies met at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Hanson to organize a Bridge club. Sixteen ladies joined the club with meetings to be held every Tuesday afternoon at the different homes. Mrs. A. J. Joseph received the prize at the first meeting.

Miss Ollie Herman resumed her duties at the Lewis Drug store Monday after a two weeks vacation in Bay City.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jennings and son Robert, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Seymour left Wednesday for Lansing where they will reside.

F. H. Ivory, father of Mrs. C. J. Halliway passed away Tuesday after a brief illness.

Prof. M. Otterbein, M. A. Bates Rev. Doty and O. P. Schumann, attended a Red Cross meeting at Frederic Saturday night.

Otto Nelson has accepted a position with Michigan Central Railroad Co., succeeding G. G. Pringle.

Nov. 1, 1943.

Mr. Schumann:

Just a few lines to the folks at home. I don't know if anyone will be interested or not.

Last night we had liberty. It being Halloween every one in camp figured it a good excuse to try and drain the liquor store. The results of that make it nice and quiet for letter writing to day.

I have been here in Richmond for two months and it is such a place. I still can't figure out why Grant took it. As far as the Navy boys are concerned it ought to be given to Lee or back to the Indians.

It has been swell here as far as the weather is concerned. It is 70 and 80 degrees most every day but usually 3 or 4 cold nights a week.

Almost two weeks ago we had quite a flood down here. Everyone was ordered to pack their sea bags. After all the packing and rushing around we didn't even have to move.

I ran across something very interesting in a diesel magazine here at the school today. It also was quite a surprise. It started off by telling a little about the famous AuSable river and what a popular resort town Grayling, Michigan is. It went on to mention a little of the fine winter sports up there too.

What they were really getting at was the type and make of diesel engines in the Grayling light plant. It gave a detailed description of the whole plant. All so all of the main and essential things for the proper operation of those engines.

Not knowing anything about diesel until now, I never thought or rather I never realized what was really in that building. After taking this diesel course here in Richmond it was very interesting to me.

It seemed rather odd though to come clear down here and read all about Grayling. Mayor Geo. Burke, City manager Granger and Jesse Sales were mentioned in the article.

I finish my course here this week and graduate around the 10th, so will you hold my edition of the Avalanche the week of the 12th until I get my new address and send it to you?

I have two more months of schooling at another base, then I will be placed on a "Commando landing barge." We are sure of that, because everyone out of this school go on barges.

I will close now before I write the whole paper for you.

As ever,
William "Bill" Moshier,
Co. 5, Unit 5, A. N. T. S.
So. Richmond, Va.

P. S. Received a letter from Bob Hanson today. He wants me to look him up if I drop in on London, England. He really thinks this is a small world.

Tyndall Field,
Panama City, Florida.

Nov. 1, 1942.

Dear Mr. Schumann:

Looks as though it's time for this soldier to write another letter to the home town newspaper, as I've been transferred to another army air force school. This time I've landed here at the gunnery school where I will complete my training and graduate as a Aerial Gunner with grade of staff sergeant. Have only four more weeks to go, but those are the toughest I've had eleven months of school already, so by this time I should be "right on the beam."

Don't know just how much I can tell you all about this field without giving out any military secrets. Guess I can say a few, as most of them can be found in any magazine. This A. A. F. technical school trains men in aerial gunnery, that is—trains them in use of turrets, sights, machine guns, etc. and then graduates them into combat outfits. There we will man the turrets and tail gun positions in the bombers. Some say that the runners in bombers have a "one way ticket", but these boys here disagree. We know how to shoot straight and before the other fellow! From the looks of some of the targets it's going to be too bad for any enemy ship that darkens our sights.

Wonder if I could get the addresses of any of the boys from Grayling that are in the service? I've tried to get in touch with some of the boys but so far have been unable to contact any. I'll answer any letters that the boys would care to write.

Sincerely,
Jack Mathews.

Nov. 3, 1942.

Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear folks:

Thought I would drop you a line while I have the opportunity. I am going to be very busy the next four months here at Aero Tech. Please do not expect over one letter a week during that time because I am going to give everything I have to obtain a grade in engine mechanics. Please inform the others to whom I write the same information.

Also I would appreciate your publishing of this letter in the Avalanche. The reason is because an injustice is being dealt here the people of California are very benevolent, especially to the members of the armed forces. All a soldier has to do is stand on a corner and look dumb. At that time an automobile stops near by and the driver shouts, "Hi soldier, I'll take you where you are going." Usually he ends up by taking you to his home for dinner, to the mountains or one hundred other places of interest. So you see why I say an injustice is present in the north. These same people have boys in Michigan and they do not receive the same treatment we do here.

So dad and mother and people of Grayling, it would be to your own boy's advantage to show the same respect as we are given.

Well dad and mother I do hope this letter finds you both well and happy. I know you will worry but that is unnecessary, because we will eventually win. You could easily realize that if you were in some of these air fields and air tech schools.

How is Bing and Speed coming along these days? Speed must have all the rabbits in Crawford county frightened away by now.

Did you hear where Leon is now? I have written him twice but have not as yet received an

The weather here is very warm in the afternoon, however it gets rather cool in the morning. How is the weather in the home town? I suppose it is starting to get cooler. By the way, are they going to have winter sports this year?

We had a lecture today on aircraft inventory and inspection. It seemed rather dry but we will all try to grasp as much as we can if we can end this most undesirable conflict sooner.

Has the home team started basketball as yet? If you all are behind them they ought to have a state team with coach Cornell at the controls. He is always "on the beam."

does not interfere with schooling too much.

Ev'rybody Ev'ry Pay Day

6,000,000 Women Enrolled in War Savings Payroll Plan.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Women At War Week, opening Nov. 22, during which women will seek to sell the greatest single week's volume of War Bonds and Stamps will serve to put the spotlight on the mighty contribution women generally are making toward financing the war.

Six million women are on War Savings payroll plans. Their monthly deductions total $70,000,000.

The customers of 300,000 newspaper boys who have sold more than $50,000,000 in War Bonds and Stamps are mostly women.

Volunteer saleswomen run nearly all the Bond booths in theatres from Maine to California. They also are sparking the War Bond sales in retail stores.

Ralph G. Engelsman, Associate Field Director of the payroll savings section of the War Savings Staff, readily admits that without the support of women the phenomenal record of payroll savings enrollments would not have been achieved. Payroll savings plans are now in operation in 140,000 businesses and factories.

Employees of these firms are converting at least 10 percent of gross payrolls into War Bonds every payday. Associate Field Director Engelsman says that women have contributed directly and indirectly toward this record. When a man devoted 10 or more percent of his pay envelope to War bonds, the woman at home has had a powerful voice in the decision. Her planning, her economies and her cheerfulness play their part in the success of payroll savings.

Proud of her investment in the American way of life and equally proud of the prime of war production on her face and in her eyes, the young lady in this "Women At War Week" poster symbolizes two of the chief activities of women at war.

and 5,000,000 more men with total deductions for War Bonds over the 10 percent mark.
